Distressed Ash

Our distressed ash table tops add distinct character to any space, each one featuring the beautifully unique knots, worm holes, and saw kerf marks that only come from naturally-distressed wood (something you won't find with manufactured distressing). Similar to our oak table tops, the distressed ash boasts natural color variation and exceptional grain patterns, both creating a stunning sense of movement and visual interest. Please note: Because of the character of this product, the surface may not be completely flat

Made to order in any shape and size. Stain color per customer specifications.
